The Pelahatchie Tour of Homes will be December 7 from 12-3 p.m. benefiting the Pelahatchie Volunteer Fire Department (VFD). Tickets will go on sale November 1. They are $10 each with children 12 and under free.

Ticketholders may tour any of the five homes from 3 to 5 p.m. the first Saturday in December. There is a mix of new and old homes, all decorated for Christmas. Three of the stops are homes that are around 100 years old. The homes include:

- JT and Angel Cooper - 712 Leesburg Road
- Jim and Mary Ann Baker - 503 College Street
- Colonel Ashley Mills - 304 College Street

- Multicraft International Headquarters - the house/office beside the grocery store
- Greg and Tedra Sirmon - 614 Highway 43 North

According to Megan Hall, president and co-founder of the Pelahatchie VFD Auxiliary, "We hope to highlight the mix of homes that makes our town so unique and make this an annual event."

The Pelahatchie Volunteer Fire Department is one of Rankin County's oldest fire departments, founded in 1952. While they receive some funding from the county and the town, there are still a number of expenses that the department is responsible for. A large portion of their gear must be replaced every few years, and money can be tight when that time comes.

There are five homes in the December 7 Pelahatchie Christmas Tour of Homes. Shown is the home of Greg and Tedra Sirmon.

"Our firefighters give of their time and put their lives on the line to protect our community. We hope that this fundraiser will keep them from having to continually go into their own pockets to help fund the department's needs," said Hall.

In 2017, Pelahatchie's fire rating dropped to a six on a scale of ten, with a lower rating being better. Most of the other volunteer departments in Rankin County have an eight rating. This rating helps to keep insurance rates lower for home and business owners within Pelahatchie VFD's district.

Tickets are available from any firefighter or auxiliary member. They can also be purchased at H&H Electrical, 808 Second Street in Pelahatchie.

For ticket purchases or more information, contact Megan Hall at 601-540-4084. Those interested in becoming a volunteer firefighter are encouraged to contact Chief Karl VanHorn.

PHS crowns Myers Homecoming Queen

Observe hunting safety with firearms and tree stands

By Doug Carter,
Rankin County
Extension Agent

Special to
Pelahatchie News

Deer season opened October 1. With temperatures in the high 90s, it was extremely dry. Deer hunters were praying for cooler temperatures and rain.

The first day of deer season brings back so many memories, good memories, fun memories. You see, around my house the first day of deer season was like Christmas morning. It was and still is a special time. It is still a special time to many Mississippi hunters. However, most deer hunters in Mississippi know someone who has been involved in a hunting accident, whether from a firearm or a fall from a tree stand.

Always remember the Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety:

1. Watch the muzzle! Keep it pointed in a safe direction at all times. Never point it at anything, you don't want to kill, or destroy.
2. Treat every firearm with the respect due a loaded gun. It might be loaded, even if you think it isn't.
3. Be sure of the target and what is in front of it. Know the identifying features of the game you hunt. Make sure you have an adequate back stop - don't shoot at a flat hard surface or water.

4. Keep your finger outside the trigger guard, until ready to shoot.
5. Check your barrel and ammunition. Make sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and carry only the proper ammunition for your firearm.
6. Unload firearms, when not in use. Leave actions open, and carry firearms in cases and unloaded to and from the shooting area.
7. Point a firearm only at something you intend to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with a gun.
8. Don't run, jump, or climb with a loaded gun. Unload the firearm before you climb a fence or tree, or jump a ditch. Pull a firearm toward you by the butt, not the muzzle.
9. Store firearms and ammunition separately, and safely.
10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before and during shooting times.

There are also hunters who are now

Special to Pelahatchie News

confined to a wheelchair and many others who have lost their lives due to tree stand falls. While the number of firearm-related hunting accidents has dropped dramatically in the past two-decades, the number of tree stand accidents has risen sharply.

Even though 70 percent of tree stand falls occur when hunters are climbing up and into the stand or getting out or down from it, almost the same percentage of hunters don't wear a fall restraint system during this critical time. Failure to wear an adequate fall restraint system is the most important factor in tree stand accidents.

What makes a hunter climb 20 feet off the ground into a $150 tree stand without any fall restraint system? It may be the same thing that makes some motorcycle riders ride without a helmet. Some people are just willing to assume more risk than others. Maybe it's the same thing that draws hunters to wild places.

Another problem is financial in nature. Most people just don't want to spend a lot of money on a fall restraint system. Many hunters will pay thousands of dollars each year to participate in the sport they love. They are willing to spend money on hunting gear, land, leases or licenses, but when it comes to climbing safety, that willingness disappears.

Tree stands are a popular and effective method of hunting. However, they also pose significant safety risks. If you choose to hunt from a tree stand, you alone must be responsible for your own well-being. Knowing and practicing safe tree stand procedures and firearm safety can minimize risks and ensure your time afield will be both safe and enjoyable.

Rhodes promotes Rankin County as Chamber president

By Susie A. Wolfe

Michelle Rhodes grew up in Rankin County and is excited to be promoting it as the Rankin County Chamber president this year. She and her husband, Keith, are cattle and hay farmers in the Shiloh area.

She is also dedicated to helping troubled families everywhere serving as the Rankin County Youth Court Field Officer. She was previously Juvenile Administrator for the Rankin County Sheriff's Department as well as a corporate recruiter for TempStaff in Jackson.

This is the sixth year of Rhodes being involved in the Rankin Chamber. She said, "It's about shopping local and being invested in the community. It's finding a place for everyone to be involved in some way, whether it's with a non-profit in the county or schools, each person needs to find their place to serve."

Earlier this year, Rhodes received a Victim's Advocate Award for helping a trafficking victim in prosecuting a human trafficker. She is also involved in establishing Shannon's Home of Hope, Inc. that is currently being established in Rankin County. It is named for her friend, Shannon Love, who taught art to abused and neglected teens. She passed away December 10, 2018.

"It's been a dream of mine for 20 years," said Rhodes. "It will be a shelter for abused and neglected children and teenagers. It will be a home-like environment that allows the kids to continue their education, hopefully in their own school. We have a shelter for animals, why not for runaway, abused or neglected teens?"

Rhodes, the daughter of Wayne and Jane Hanson (deceased), graduated from Pelahatchie High School. Her stepmother is Martha, and her brother, Herbert Hanson, owns a construction company in Pelahatchie. Her in-laws are Billy and Betty Rhodes of Puckett. Her three children, all graduates of East Rankin Academy, include Taylor Vinson, who teaches third grade at Stonebridge in Brandon; Tyler, who works at Nucor; and Brooke, who is a college ladies basketball coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC.

Rhodes stayed at home with her kids and the farm until 2011, when she started back to school at Mississippi College. She received a sociology degree in 2013. She then graduated from the police academy in 2014 as a certified law enforcement officer to help with her position as Juvenile Administrator with the Rankin County Sheriff's Department.

"God knows what He is doing when He put me in these positions," said Rhodes. "A lot of families need help to get on their feet again. We just want to be there."

Town celebrates National Night Out

Photos by Pelahatchie News

The Pelahatchie Police Department hosted a successful National Night Out celebration at Muscadine Park on October 1. The Pelahatchie High School band performed, as well as the Pelahatchie Baptist Church choir. Chasin' Dixie and Vick Allen also performed, and Mike Townsend served as master of ceremonies. Attendees enjoyed free family fun and food.

Dear Friends,

Pelahatchie has been a significant part of my life for so many reasons. From lifelong friendships, to family roots, to even being baptized in Pelahatchie as a child, Pelahatchie holds a special place in my heart.

It's been an honor to represent you as your State Representative. I've worked to be your voice, listen to your concerns, and work to give Pelahatchie and Eastern Rankin County its rightful identity at our State Capitol. I've worked with our local, state, and federal officials and business leaders to create new jobs and help with economic development projects here at home. I've been honored to be welcomed as a part of your community -- whether it's in businesses, churches, schools, festivals, or in good times and sad times. I'm so proud to have been a supporter of your excellent Fire and Police Departments and to do my part to help in times of need.

The folks of east Rankin County and Pelahatchie deserve a strong voice at the Capitol, and I am so grateful you've chosen me to be that voice for the past eight years. I hope you'll let me continue to work for you in Jackson. -Thank you, Tom Miles

The Bucking Bronc Bash was held on a hot October Sunday. There were more than 800 people in attendance, and more than $6,900 was raised benefitting the local groups, Ever Reaching Community Outreach and the Leesburg Fire Department. Bucking Bronc Bash originator Cole Bilbro said that he would like to thank everyone that came and supported the rodeo plus all the sponsors.

The Lily of the Valley

By Guest Columnist Maren McCartney

Look at a mountain, how it is so high. And the sparkling stream fountain where the valleys lie. A bird flies overhead to see. What a beautiful thing God has done for thee. He is the lily of the valley.

You make the wind hustle. And the trees rustle. Lord, your work is strong and true. And I will always trust in you.

I'll spread your word all over the nation. For Lord, you are my inspiration. For you, I will live or die. Because one day I will see you eye to eye.

The quiet stream is flowing by. You're better than a piece of apple pie. Satan will throw fiery darts. But Lord you're always in my heart

The sand on the seashore. You made it

And I will always love you more and more.

Yes, I am only ten years old. But through hot or cold. You love me just the same. And I will always call upon your name.

I know you always see me. But how can it be? You are the lily of the valley

I am the rose of Sharon and the lily of the valley, Song of Solomon 2:1. You are not just about fun. You are my Lord My shield and my sword

Your name is God and Jesus. You plus me makes us.

Athletic, extracurricular, and construction highlights abound

By Guest Columnist
Teague Burchfield, Principal,
Pelahatchie High School

Special to
Pelahatchie News

As we move into the 2nd 9 weeks, I would be remiss to not mention all of the accomplishments of many of our extracurricular programs that have competed over the past month. The inaugural volleyball season ended successfully with our JV and Varsity Girls showing tremendous growth. The Pelahatchie Band Program, led by Helen Rettger, competed mightily in their first MHSAA state band evaluation since the late 1980s. Not to be outdone, the JROTC marksmanship team, led by Sergeant John Gough, have been successful in their matches with opposing schools in their National Air Rifle League competitions.

With November comes playoff football and a transition into winter sports. Our football Chiefs wrap up the regular season with Morton at home on November 1. Once the playoff schedule has been set, we will communicate through our media outlets of our opponents and locations of all games. On Saturday, November 2, the Lady Chiefs, led by first year coach Alexia Jones, kick off their season against Florence at the St. Joseph Classic. The Boys, led by Coach Lavadius Lyles, begin their season on Thursday (Nov. 7) as both teams square off against the Scott Central Rebels. The soccer season kicks off as well on November 16 at Magee versus the Trojans. In his third season as coach of the Boys and Girls soccer programs, Coach Creel looks forward to an ambitious season.

Regarding construction, the exterior portions of our administrative office, multipurpose room, and band hall are nearing completion. Construction on the east side of campus has begun, with the new classroom addition being prepped for the pouring of its foundation. Revisions to the parking lot area are currently underway, as well. We appreciate your continued patience on our campus as we continue to improve our facilities through our district's bond issue initiative.

As always, we are extremely proud to showcase our staff and students and the overall body of work of their respective programs. The many different programs that are offered not only teach team concepts, structure, organization, and competition; all place an emphasis on the pillars of a solid high school education, attendance, academics, and attitude.

Thank you for your continued support of all of the many different programs that Pelahatchie High School has to offer...Go Chiefs!!!

Special to Pelahatchie News

U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel Jason Tate, a Pelahatchie native, 1998 Tougaloo College graduate and graduate of Northwest Rankin High School, was recently selected for promotion to Colonel and will attend the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, PA.

Lieutenant Colonel Tate is currently assigned to the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Acquisition, Logistics and Technology (ASA), (ALT), Pentagon, Washington, D.C., as a Department of the Army Systems Coordinator (DASC) supporting Guided Multiple Launch Rocket System (GMLRS) and Long Range Precision Fires (LRPF).

The highly decorated Lieutenant Colonel Tate holds a Doctor of Philosophy in Management from Walden University, a Master's of Science Degree in Environmental Management from Webster University and a Master's of Arts Degree in International Relations from the University of Oklahoma. He is the son of Joe and Brenda Tate of Pelahatchie.

The family also celebrated another honor in recent days with Lieutenant Colonel Tate's eldest son Noah, 17, being promoted to the rank of Eagle Scout, for which Mr. and Mrs. Tate were present at one of the ceremonies.

Lieutenant Colonel Tate is married to the former Kandie S. Stovall MD, of Huntsville, Ala. They have two other sons, Nathan Tate (14), and Nicholas Tate (11).

Sanders named member of the Inaugural Student Advisory Council

Special to Pelahatchie News

Reagan Sanders was named Pelahatchie High School's representative to the MDE's Inaugural Student Advisory Council.

Special to Pelahatchie News

The Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) announced in October the members of the inaugural State Superintendent's Student Advisory Council that included Pelahatchie High School's Reagan Sanders.

The council includes students in grades 11-12 or first year of college to serve as members for a term of two school years.

More than 150 students from across the state applied for membership on the council, and 83 were selected. Students from different backgrounds, school size and regions in Mississippi will be able to share their opinions and offer advice about educational opportunities and policy in Mississippi with

Dr. Carey Wright, state superintendent of education.

"I'm looking forward to hearing directly from students on issues of importance to them," Wright said. "As our clients, we want to make sure public education provides them with the knowledge and skills they need to be successful. The council also allows students to interact with their peers from around the state and learn from one another."

The council's purpose is to provide a forum for Mississippi's students to offer diverse perspectives to Wright. The selected students will act as liaisons between MDE and public school students from across the state.

Council meetings will be held twice (fall and spring) during the school year.

Get professional help with your business

Special to Pelahatchie News

It's usually a good idea to get professional help. Hiring lawyers and accountants can help keep you out of legal and financial trouble, while public relations experts can get your company in the public eye. Technology consultants can keep you abreast of the solutions that will work best for your business.

And having a good relationship with a particular bank or banker is a good way to get information when you make major financial decisions, such as arranging a line of credit or securing loans. In general, it's a good idea to figure out the areas where expert help could provide the biggest boost, and hire professionals to achieve it. As you have more money at your disposal, you can hire other specialists as you need them.

Financial Guidance: Running your own business is challenging enough without trying to handle your company's tax planning and reporting. Most business owners would agree that hiring an accountant is a good investment. Accountants can work with you and your financial officer or controller to keep your business financially sound. Some areas that accountants can help you with include preparing profit and loss statements, audit reports, and earnings projections. An accountant can also troubleshoot for you and help you fine-tune your budget.

Many accountants will help you organize your records for more efficiency. And if you need a loan, your accountant can help you determine what type might be appropriate for you.

Attorneys: As a business owner, you'll probably need to work with an attorney. If you have business associates who work with an attorney, ask for their recommendations. You can also contact your local business association for referrals.

In the early stages of your business, your lawyer helped you decide what type of structure (sole ownership, partnership, corporation, or franchise) would work best for you. And as you grow, an attorney can foresee various business needs, such as zoning regulations, employment practices, and workplace safety. It's also important to retain a lawyer if you are applying for trademarks or patents, because many legal issues arise during the application process. Finally, it's crucial to have an employment lawyer review your employee handbook to make sure you cover all the bases, legally speaking.

It's essential to find someone who's experienced in business law, preferably someone who has worked with businesses like yours. You may also want to think about the size of the firm. A smaller firm may give you more personal attention, but a larger one usually offers a wider range of services.

Finally, you should find out how you'll be charged for the legal services you need. Most lawyers charge an hourly fee, and the cost of each consultation depends on the lawyer's billing rate. That generally depends on level of experience, the part of the country where you live, and the type of firm it is. However, some lawyers charge a flat fee for a specific service, regardless of the amount of time it takes.

Specialized Consultant: If you want to get your business into the public eye, you can hire advertising or marketing specialists to help you create an image and positioning scheme. A small advertising agency or independent specialist may be ideal for your small business's needs.

There are technology consultants who can help keep you updated with the latest software and manage the operation of your systems. There are also soft consultants, who are trained to teach your employees how to maximize their productivity, cultivate working relationships with clients, and more.

Special to Pelahatchie News

In his first year at East Rankin Academy (ERA), Coach Steven Simmons led the 2019 Lady Patriot soccer team to an 11-5 record ending in the MAIS-Division Two semi-finals. They lost to Hartsfield Academy, but started the season strong with a 6-0 record.

Previously with Belhaven University and Canton Academy, Simmons was and still is a club soccer coach. He coaches both boys and girls soccer at ERA.

Simmons attributes this year's success to hard work, right attitude and confidence. He feels the teams will continue to succeed.

Parents are excited about the new coach. One said, "He has done so much for this (ladies) team."

Pastor's perspective: Be a blessing

By Guest Columnist John Vaughn, Pastor, Cross Roads Baptist Church

Special to Pelahatchie News

With Thanksgiving this month, I began to think about blessings I have received in life.

Before we came to Cross Roads, Kathy and I served as missionaries to Brazil for 16 years. Every three or four years, we came back to the U.S. for State Side Assignment. On our first State Side Assignment in 1991-92, I went to a Missions Conference in Georgia. There were a number of missionaries there that week. Each night, we rotated so that I spoke in six or seven different churches in one week.

While I was there, I stayed in the home of a farming couple. Lavonne and Rachel were gracious hosts. One day, Lavonne told me he had made an appointment for me at the Tire Center in their town, so they could put four new tires on my car. My tires were getting worn, and I had planned to buy new ones when I got home from that trip. He noticed their condition and decided to buy tires for me.

I said, "That's very kind of you, but you don't have to buy me tires." His reply has remained in my head and heart ever since. He said, "I'm not doing it because I have to. I'm doing it because I want to. If I can be a blessing to you, God will bless me in return." So I came home with four new tires on my car. And what a blessing that was to us. I trust that God did indeed return the blessing to Lavonne and Rachel.

But that's not the end of the story. After our State Side Assignment, we returned to Brazil. A few months later, we adopted our son David. He was 23 hours old and weighed 4 ½ pounds when we brought him home from the hospital. He's 26 now, and weighs a little bit more than 4 ½ pounds! Soon after David was born, my mother called to tell us that she had been contacted by a Church in Georgia that wanted to pay for her to travel to Brazil to see us. Upon investigation, I discovered that it was the Church that Lavonne and Rachel attended. In fact, it was their Sunday School Class that decided to send Mother to see us. They had fund raisers and took up collections. They not only paid for her round trip tickets, but took care of the cost of her passport and Visa and gave her some spending money, as well!

Mother could not have made that trip without their help. She came to Brazil and stayed two months. She was with us for David's first Christmas. Though we didn't know it at the time, it ended up being her last Christmas. She died the following October.

I contacted Lavonne and Rachel to let them know how grateful we were for their generosity. And do you know what he said? "If we can be a blessing to you, God will bless us in return!"

What a lesson for all of us! If we can bless someone else, God will bless us in return. Now, you may not be able to buy new tires for someone, or send somebody on an international trip. But there are people you know who would be blessed to receive a card in the mail from you. There are people you know who would be blessed to get a phone call to let them know you were thinking of them. There are people you know who would be blessed if you said a prayer for them.

You can also be a blessing to people you don't even know by saying a kind word, or holding a door open for them. And you can bless someone without them knowing that the blessing came from you. Once, Kathy and I ate at a sit down restaurant with printed menus and table servers. We enjoyed our meal and asked for the ticket. The server told us that someone had already paid our bill! I looked around and didn't see anyone I knew. To this day, I don't know who bought our meal. It was a blessing to us, and I trust that God returned the blessing to that person.

An old hymn by Ira Wilson makes the point for us, "Out in the highways and byways of life, Many are weary and sad; Carry the sunshine where darkness is rife, Making the sorrowing glad. Make me a blessing, Make me a blessing; Out of my life, May Jesus shine. Make me a blessing, O Savior, I pray, Make me a blessing to someone today."

Look for someone you can be a blessing to. God will return the blessing to you! And be sure to take your family to Church this Sunday!

Education is a family tradition for ERA's Winstead

By Susie A. Wolfe

For Robyn Winstead, education is a family tradition. Her mother's grandmother taught in a one-room schoolhouse in the state. Her father, Robert Gates, had a 38-year career as headmaster of East Rankin Academy (ERA) and is currently Headmaster Emeritus. Her mother, Dee Gates, is in her forty-fifth year at ERA and is currently the ERA elementary principal.

And, Winstead started kindergarten at ERA and has now been employed at the school for 23 years. She taught one year at Carthage, but has been at ERA since that time, first serving as elementary teacher, then a high school history teacher. She was named high school principal in 2003 and head of school in December 2018.

"My family has invested our life in education, primarily at East Rankin Academy," she said. Her parents were both at Pelahatchie Attendance Center before moving to East Rankin. Robert Gates served in Mendenhall and Slidell before becoming Pelahatchie principal. He retired from ERA in 2013, but the board wanted him to continue to handle the school finances, which he still does today.

Winstead's three sons attended or are attending ERA, as both she and her husband, John, did before them. John is a quality technician at Milwaukee Tool in Jackson and, along with Winstead, owns Pelahatchie Mini Storage. Her son Win, 23, is currently pursuing a degree in Health Information Management at the University of Mississippi Medical Center, and Ward, 21, is studying Mechanical Engineering at Ole Miss. West, 17, is currently an ERA junior, where he is a member of the ERA Chess Team, as well as plays football, basketball, and runs track.

Winstead has excitement in her voice as she speaks about ERA's fiftieth anniversary and its 675 students. She said she is looking forward to the upcoming renovations and new building projects they will be starting in the upcoming months.

"My goal as the leader of East Rankin is to continue our mission of excellence in Christian education as we seek to help students be the best they can be academically, socially, physically, and spiritually."

Winstead and her family are involved in the music program at Pelahatchie

Baptist Church, where she has served as church organist for the last nine years. Her husband and three sons also have their own quartet that performs at church and special functions.

A graduate of Mississippi College like her parents before her, Winstead received a B.S. education in 1992. She also received a Master's in Educational Leadership from the American College of Education in 2011. Her great grandmother, who taught in the one-room schoolhouse, attended Hillman College in Clinton, which became a part of Mississippi College.

So, the education roots in Winstead's family run deep.

Robert and Dee Gates have dedicated much of their educational careers to East Rankin, and are still serving.
